South Carolinians for Truth is a grassroots organization whose purpose is to advocate for the reform of South Carolina's current campaign finance laws. The group will use grassroots efforts as well as paid and earned media programs to encourage the change of South Carolina law. The ultimate goal of the organization is to demand new laws requiring issue advocacy groups that mention an elected official by name to follow the same laws of disclosure that candidates and party organizations are required to follow.

We also plan to serve as a watchdog group setting the record straight whenever these organizations misrepresent the truth. Ultimately we hope to raise sufficient funds to combat the half-truths and lies from these groups using paid media as well as grass roots organizing.
